1. [REDACTED] telephoned to say that when [REDACTED] was briefing General Cabell yesterday, 8 November, in preparation for the USIB Meeting today he had suggested that the USIB Committees be excluded from the White House Directive that we report by 1 December on all interdepartmental committees, etc. General Cabell seemed sympathetic to this and intended to raise it at the USIB Meeting. If USIB Committees were excepted from this procedure, our problem would be greatly simplified. I told Jimmy that as soon as we had the reports from the various Agency components in hand we would coordinate with [REDACTED] staff to ensure that we were all on the same wave length.

2. Bob Amory telephoned about Bob Macy's letter of 6 November 1961 concerning the National Photographic Interpretation Center. Bob felt strongly that we should not attempt to get contributions for the construction at [REDACTED] at this late date. He shared Bob Macy's concern about greater Community participation in the operation of NPIC but felt that with the Defense Intelligence Agency just getting organized this was particularly a bad time to raise the question. He wanted to talk to Bob Macy about it and I agreed to set up a meeting--probably next week. H

3. I talked to [REDACTED] about Mr. McCone's rental Cadillac and asked him to prepare a letter for my signature to the Vice President in Charge of Government Sales at General Motors.

5. General Cabell telephoned to say that Alexis Johnson had spoken to him today at the Special Group Meeting about our Fiscal Year 1963 budget. This conversation related to Bob Macy's telephone call to me on 8 November. (See Memorandum of Conversation.) Johnson told General Cabell that the Bureau of the Budget had inquired as to whether the Department of State had reviewed our budget and that the Department had given a negative reply. He also indicated to General Cabell that the Department would be glad to give us any assistance that we might want. I then reported orally on my telephone call from Bob Macy, and General Cabell and I agreed that this should be discussed at our Deputies' Meeting on Monday morning, 13 November.
